To whom it may concern,

I am writing on behalf of Jared Huffstutler regarding the position of Software Engineer. Jared has been one of my Teaching Assistants at the University of Arizona Coding Bootcamp, and we work together very closely. I can thoroughly vouch for his strong work ethic, technical skill, and quick learning ability.

Jared is considered a fantastic teacher, mentor, and developer by many of our students, as well as myself. He has the ability to learn on the fly, improvise, and develop creative solutions to problems utilizing his technical knowledge and his understanding of rapid learning techniques. I wouldn't hesitate to hire him for any type of development work.

His lack of formal training and education have not been a detriment to his code nor his abilities. He is quick to pick up on new standards and can learn without direction.

Jared would be a fantastic addition to any team, large or small. His current technical knowledge and ability, as well as his dedication to career progression, learning, and software development in general would be invaluable assets to any company.

If you have further questions, please feel free to contact me at the email address above.

Best,

Anthony Rivas
